

Appendix Three

Distinguished Service Award Recipients

The Distinguished Service Award is to be awarded for "outstanding or exceptional contribution to the public service. It is a die struck gold table medal. It is approximately 1.65 inches (40mm) in diameter and 0.116 inches (3mm) thick. The obverse is the Department of the Interior seal, the famed buffalo surrounded by the words Department of the Interior Distinguished Service. The reverse depicts a front view of the main Department of the Interior building surmounted by the words Award for/Distinguished Service/to. Below this is engraved in two lines the name of the recipient and date of award. The medal is presented in a fitted case. Accompanying the medal are a gold lapel pin depicting the medal's obverse, a gold embossed certificate signed by the Secretary of the Interior, and a letter-sized citation outlining the achievements of the individual. Since its inception in 1948 and through 2007 (when the latest convocation was held) there have been 2,097 awarded.
