REGISTRATION NOTE

In accordance with established OMSA policy, all members attending the convention are expected to share the expense of the convention by paying the full registration fee and by patronizing the convention hotel, which helps offset bourse and exhibit room rental costs. The registration fee includes a non-recoverable amount for the breakfast and banquet. The convention is open to the public on Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. OMSA members who do not register for the convention may only participate during the public hours on Saturday. Non-members who wish to participate in any aspect of the convention other than the public bourse on Saturday must first complete a membership application and remit annual dues, in addition to paying the full convention registration fee.

BOURSE NOTE

A copy of the OMSA Bourse Rules is published in the Membership Handbook and will be provided to you in your registration packet. Table holders are reminded that the bourse is limited to the sale, trade, and/or display of original orders, medals and decorations of the world as well as directly related material such as documents, books, uniforms and uniform parts, trophies and awards in non-traditional forms, supplies and equipment for collecting awards and other related material. Reproductions may be displayed in the bourse provided they are permanently marked and presented as such. FIREARMS AND AMMUNITION OF ALL TYPES ARE NOT PERMITTED. RELIGIOUS ICONS ARE NOT PERMITTED.

EXHIBITOR NOTE

Anyone planning to enter a competitive exhibit should carefully read the section STANDARD OMSA EXHIBITION REGULATIONS under the "Convention" tab on the OMSA website (www.omsa.org).
